FROZEN HARVEST

2.6 minutes by Mark Fleming from Maine

For centuries, the people of Maine have upheld the tradition of ice harvesting.

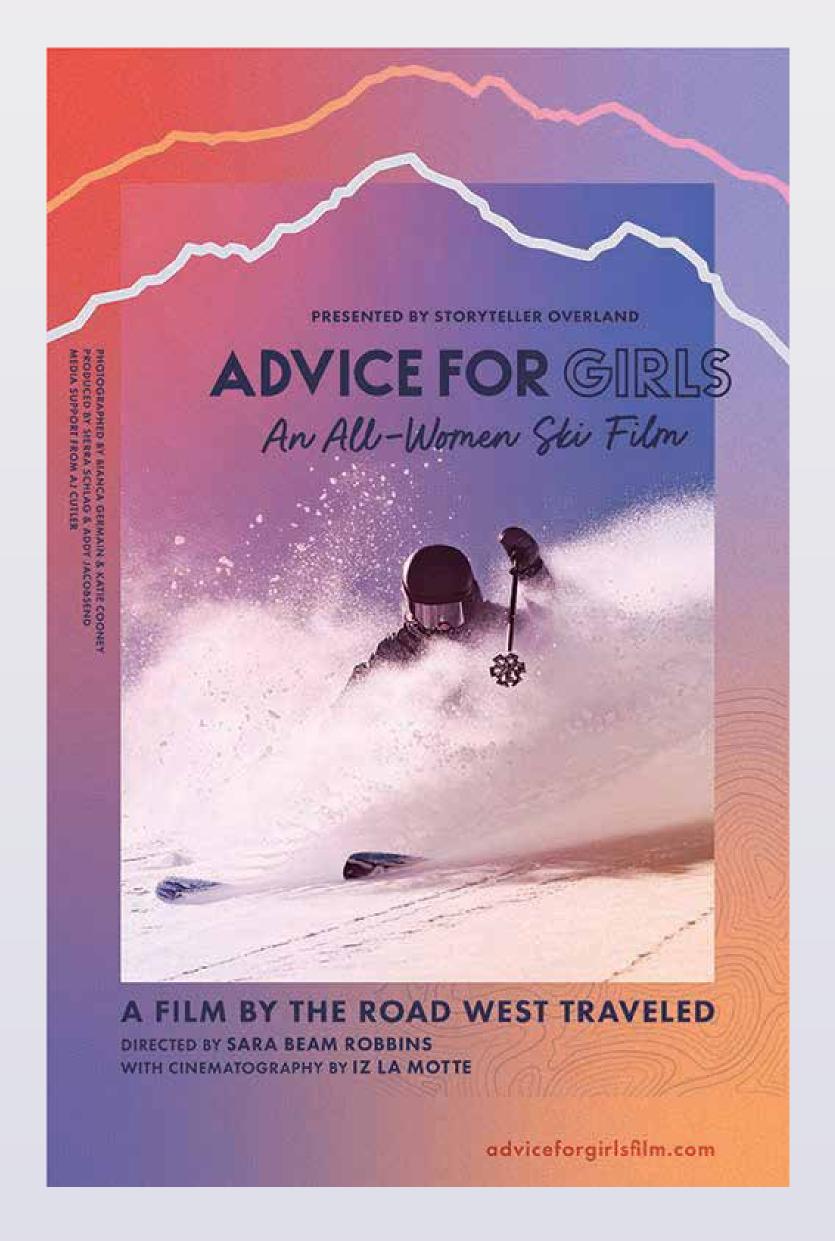

Our team had the opportunity to join volunteers at the Thompson Ice House and witness firsthand this oncethriving industry's remarkable but vulnerable legacy. As one of the few remaining ice harvests in the world, the ice house in South Bristol offers a poignant reminder of the profound impact of global warming.

ADVICE FOR GIRLS

60 minutes by Sara Beam Robbins from Colorado

Advice for Girls is inspired by the poem of the same name written by Addy Jacobsend. Her hope is that her words will remind women and girls that they are worthy of success, allowed to take up space, and are extremely valuable to the ski industry.

Advice for Girls
by Addy Jacobsend

Be loud and confident Show them what you're capable of

Stop saying sorry and start saying "Don't underestimate me!"

Wear makeup and take selfies

Wear black on black or pink and teal or both or neither and wear your hair the way that you like it

Help out other girls
Push each other to improve

Be vocal about things that need change and fight for representation

Stop pushing yourself too far and start saying "I need a break."

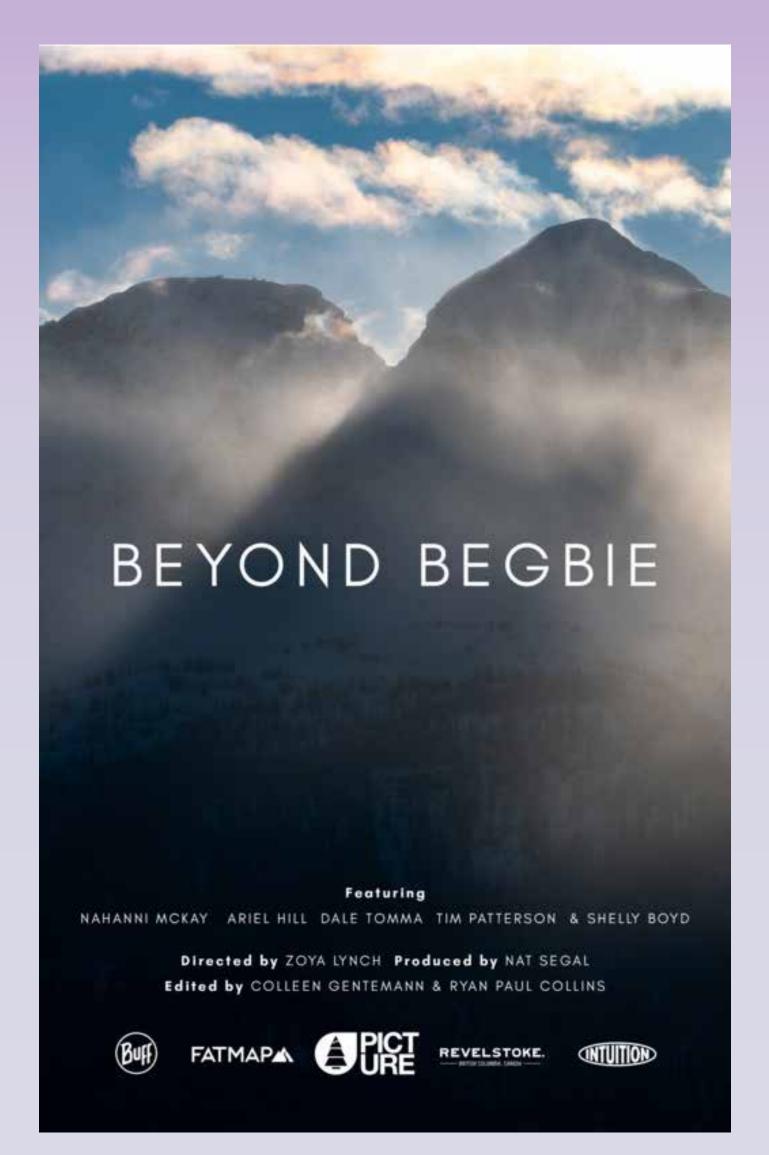

Never ignore your gut feeling trying to impress others but don't put limits on yourself –

Because girl, you are capable of so much more than you think.

BEYOND BEGBIE

15 minutes by Zoya Lynch from British Columbia

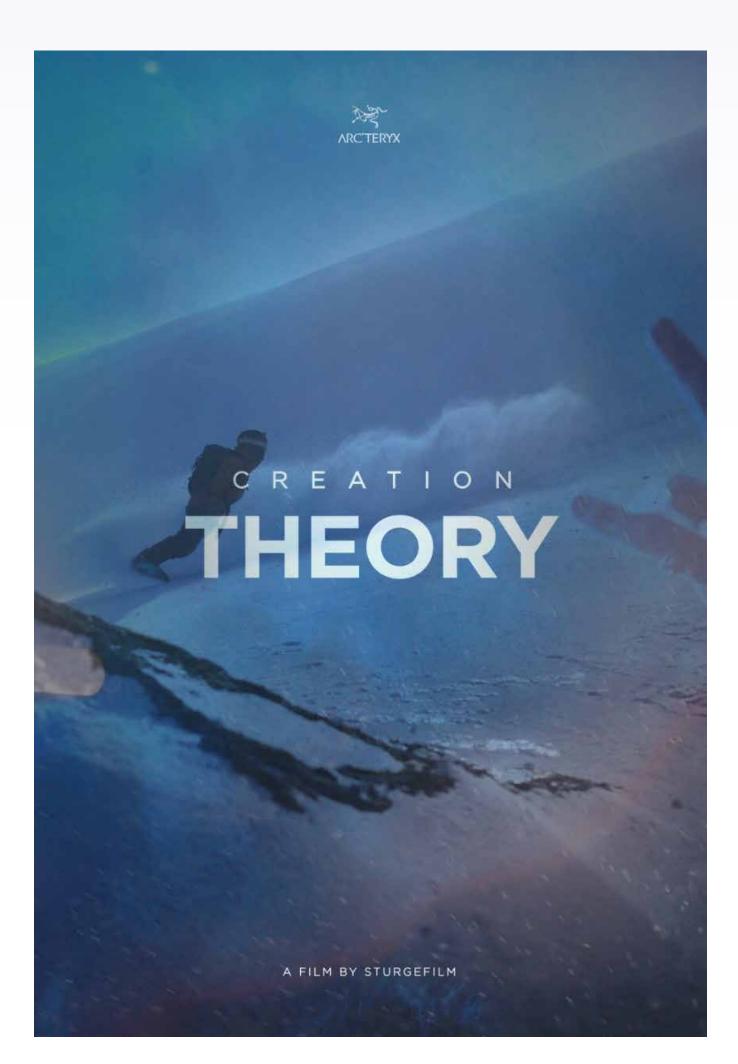

Climbing Mount Begbie is a "right of passage" for every hiker, climber, sledder, and skier who chooses to make Revelstoke Valley their home. While this peak has created an entire contemporary culture in Revelstoke, its name and story only represent colonial history, with no reference to the Indigenous heritage of this land. Is it the outdoor community's responsibility to help change this?

TO THIE HILLS AND BACK

46.68 minutes by Mike Quigley from Canada

At a remote backcountry cabin, a veteran mountain guide and his daughter connect and reflect upon a lifetime in the mountains. Avalanche accidents have been happening in the mountains since humans first started traveling within them and we learn about this evolution of winter recreation and avalanche safety. Stories unfold and we hear from several characters including those with life shattering events. Many of these stories share striking similarities that those who follow can learn from.

CREATION THEORY

22 minutes by Ben Sturgulewski from Alaska

Whether it's the grandest cosmos or the smallest human idea, true creation arrives in moments of unexpected convergence— extraordinary synchronicities between space and time, science and art, music and mountains and sea. In Creation Theory, these raw elements converge in the Westfjords of Iceland, taking us on a journey from the interstellar birth of gravity and rhythm, to their ultimate human creative expression: surfer on wave, snowboarder on peak, and musician on stage.

Sometimes it's not about what it took to get there, it's what comes after. And that's what Après ["ah•pray"] is all about: the journey all the way through. Not only what we choose to do, but the joy and satisfaction of what comes later. Whether you're taking the short trail, seeking the most challenging terrain, or getting up before 4am to make first chair-- the work and the reward are all that more balanced in the end.

Made in collaboration with Saddleback, Après' GREEN WEAVER, is a vibrant blend of local sweet raspberry + subtly cooling mint made for bright winter days on the slopes. This bright and delicately sweet Hard Seltzer is an homage to the powdery ski culture of Rangeley, designed intentionally and with whole ingredients for snowy days and après nights.
